

Andrija Štampar School of Public Health Dormitory was built as part of the School in 1926 with main intent to provide provisional accommodation for persons attending specialization and professional training. Generations of medical doctors and world experts have used the hospitality of this establishment in the last 90 years.

The dormitory is available for visiting teachers and students, scientists, lecturers and other collaborators on various projects, courses, conferences, etc.

Dormitory guests have a library at their disposal comprising of more than 60 000 books and journal volumes. Several computers and print services are available for the library users. The library also provides access to relevant scientific databases through which library users can find the latest content and information.

On the third floor of the building is a newly renovated restaurant operating from 8 am to 5 pm.

The building has a parking lot, elevator, and is adapted to the needs of people with disabilities.
